COUNCIL PASSES BIG SHOPS CENTRE

A Major Australian development firm has been given the green light for a $4 million shopping centre at Altona North.

The centre, controlled by a firm which refuses to disclose its identity, is expected to open in late autumn next year.

Great drought ends

The great beer drought broke over the weekend in an unprecedented demand for bottles and cans.

Most district hotels were back in full swing on Saturday morning with plenty of supplies of bottles and cans along with draught Courage or Carlton.

Some hotels never ran out of draught beer at all during the strike by brewery drivers and one Footscray hotel boasted it had enough draught beer to see it through the crisis.

What a crisis it was. Regular drinkers at many hotels were faced with drinking a brandy and dry, a glass of sherry or a range of beers ranging from imported stuff from South Australia to Israel.

The strike had both its advantages and disadvantages to many hotels.

On the advantage side (for them), there was one hotel that sold Sydney beer, provided you drank it at the bar, at 50 cents a small can. Others were a little less bandit-minded and sold imported bottles over the bar at 50 cents a throw.

Israeli beer apparently was readily obtainable and some hotels snapped up package deals on vast amounts of this in large and stubby bottles.

Altona city council has given its approval to the proposed split-level centre which will include two of Melbourne's major stores, Safeway and Target.

Two other unnamed firms are ready to occupy a men's wear store and a furniture showroom in the centre.

The application permitting the building of the centre of the old Humes quarry site was approved by council on the motion of Crs. Sommers and Lynch.

Cr. L. Crofts said he had been into the various aspects of the proposed development and said it was in the best interests of the community.

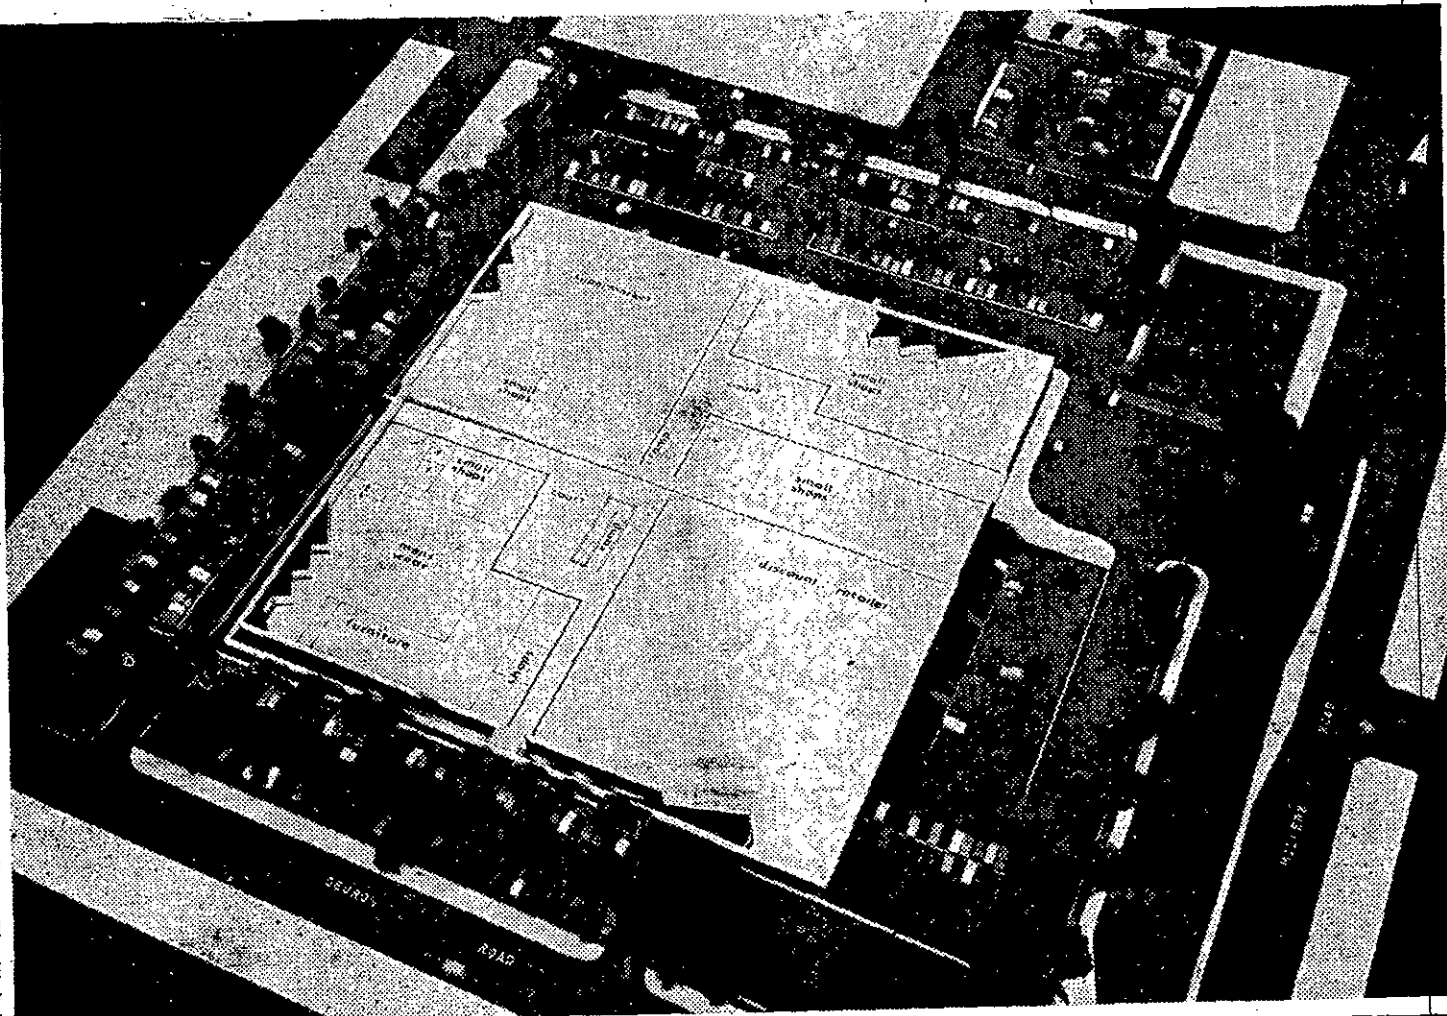

Cr. Lofts added: "We have looked at all the objectives and opposition to the scheme but I now support it."

Cr. Lynch said the people of North Altona were entitled to a "decent shopping centre" and he could see no way council could block the application by Concrete Constructions (Queensland) Pty. Ltd. to provide these facilities on the old quarry site.

The proposed development includes an underground carpark beneath the Target Store site and there will be room for additional parking around the complex.

A spokesman for Lewis Constructions, the firm who will be doing the actual building of the complex said it was hoped that work would begin as soon as possible.

Asked who the firm behind the development was, the spokesman replied: "Ask me that in about three weeks and I may be only too happy to tell you."

This is an artist's impression as to how the multi-million dollar proposed shopping centre at North Altona will look.

Car - parking space is provided for additional cars under the split-level complex.

To meet Prince

An Altona man has been invited to Government House to meet the Duke of Edinburgh, Prince Phillip, during his current visit to Australia.

He is John Williams, of Emu Avenue, Altona, who has been a leader of the Church of England Boys' Society in a number of places.

He obtained the invitation because of his involvement in the operation of the Duke of Edinburgh Award Scheme for CEBS.

Wine tasting

Altona City Youth Theatre will hold a wine tasting afternoon on Sunday at 1 p.m. at 12 Webb Street, Altona.

Admittance is $1 for non-members and 50 cents for members.

Westgate disaster memorial unveiled

Mothers, children and workmen wept underneath a massive bridge span on Monday.

The children probably did not know what their mothers or themselves were crying about.

Widows, workmen, union officials and members of the public gathered together at the tragic spot where 35 workmen were killed when one of the bridge's box girders collapsed.

The workmates of their dead colleagues were not prepared to let the third anniversary of the tragedy go unnoticed, so they all chipped in and erected a $10,000 memorial plaque at the base of the support which led to the collapse.

The unveiling of the plaque was carried out by Mr. Jesus Ason, a tiny Spaniard who survived the fatal collapse.

The names of all the men who lost their lives were listed on the plaque.

600 WAIT

More than 600 workers and union men watched as the second hand of their watches reached 11.50 a.m. — the time the bridge span collapsed.

They then bowed their heads in silence to remember that fatal day on October 15 three years ago.

What has happened to these widows now?

Most are out working to provide the bare essentials of life for their children.

Some have moved to other States to start afresh — but wherever they are scattered, they gathered together on Monday to remember a day they all had in common.

The day they lost a husband and a father, a breadwinner who liked a drink with the boys after work, or the family man who went home to his wife and children to share a life that was cut short in one of the most tragic disasters in Australian history.

Nobody will ever forget the Westgate disaster — and the men who survived have made sure of that.

District people killed in the accident were — John

LITTLE ATHS. CLUB SHOWS THE WAY

The Altona Little Athletics Association was a typical example of co-operation between a sporting body and council.

This comment was made by Cr. Pat Lynch following a letter to council from Altona Little Athletics chairman, Mr. S. Clement stating that his association had no objections to schools using the centre's facilities to the fullest extent.

Mr. Clement said in his letter that the only guidelines that should be laid down were:

- The approval of the city engineer and parks and gardens superintendent.
- The availability of the ground on a certain date.
- The ground to be marked only after consultation with the executive, for technical requirements.

Mr. Clement said he trusted these broad outlines would be of assistance to council and that many more local organisations would make use of the excellent facilities available.

Town clerk, Mr. Syd Fell recommended to council that the use of the ground to schools should be restricted to special school sports or their preparation.

He said, "Council's present day policy is to permit the schools, on application, to use specified reserves free of charge, on approved days and hours."

The motion accepting the recommendation of Mr. Fell was moved by Cr.

Lynch, seconded by Cr. W. Sommers and carried.

Council also decided to advise all local schools of the motion so that the schools would be given ample time to apply for use of the centre's facilities.

Scout effort

The 3rd Altona Scout Group's special effort was won by ticket number 297 in the name of M. Manchin, 30 Hancock Cres., Braybrook.

Second prize went to Mrs. Gazzalori, 6 Park Street, Altona North. Third prize to S. Aquiana, 12 Mills Street, North Sunshine.

Ten weekly prizes: H. Bosecke; R. Zavotiero; P. Dingey; F. Organ; S. Kell; S. Phillips; R. Cohen; W. Dritrich; H. Stiles; J. Markinson.

Cara pays for Godfather's trip

Cara Williams will marry Edward Magee at St. Luke's Church of England, North Altona, on Friday, October 19, and her godfather, uncle Peter, will be there.

Uncle Peter is en route from England.

Because he could not afford the expensive wedding trip, Cara paid. At first, her Godfather refused the offer, but relented when he realised

Cara was determined to have him at her wedding.

Cara, 21, is the elder daughter of Mr. and Mrs. D. Williams, of Delphin Avenue, North Altona.

Edward is the only son of Mr. and Mrs. Magee, Lesley Street, St. Albans.

Woman cricketers show potential

Mr. M. McDonald, president of the Altona Ladies' Cricket Club does not know why he started the club — but he's certainly glad he has.

Mr. McDonald believed that when youngsters grew out of Little Athletics competitions, they didn't know what to do with themselves.

He didn't want years of training and hard work to go to waste, so he asked Altona Council for the use of the A. W. Bond Reserve in Chambers Road.

The council said if the team was to be accepted by the Victorian Women's Cricket Association, it would put up a wicket.

The team had its first match against Avondale Heights last week.

The players are teenage girls, because the team had to start on the lowest grade.

Older players were more advanced.

However, the team is already showing good potential, with Keren

Batty and Vicky Clark and Sandra Cunningham as the star players. Practice is held every Wednesday and Sunday.

Cricket is not a dangerous game for girls, Mr. McDonald believes.

"They don't bowl as hard as men and their reflexes are just as good," he says.

The current interest in cricket can be explained by the large number of English people living in Altona, Mr. McDonald explains.

As president of the Altona (men's) Cricket Club, he knows all about the game.

Mrs. Denise Colledge, who helps to coach the Altona North Ladies' Cricket Team, is pictured practising last Thursday.

YOUTH FRACTURES SKULL IN FIRST TRAIL BIKE RIDE

A youth who had fractured his skull when he had ridden an un-registered trail bike into the back of a parked van told Williamstown Court on Thursday he had never ridden a bike before.

If you're choosing a penfriend, we wouldn't suggest you choose one from the Welsh town above the picture.

You'll finish up with writer's cramp. It has 58 letters and one hyphen in it.

And try pronouncing it... you'll find it a good party game.

One person in the western suburbs, however, has no trouble with it. She hails from Llanfairpwllg... hell, it's hopeless.

To hear it roll from her tongue with a rich, Welsh accent, is a sheer delight.

FOOTNOTE: Boys, don't get any ideas about asking Alice to pronounce it to you after she knocks off work some evening.

She's happily married, lives in Altona North, and her oldest child is 18, another 17 and the "baby" 11.

Hard to believe, isn't it?

Jim Sarros, 20, shipping clerk, of Charles Street, Altona, pleaded guilty to charges of having ridden a motor cycle on a highway.

- Without wearing a crash helmet.
- Without a headlamp.
- Without a licence.
- Without the bike being registered.

Mr. J. Caven, SM, fined Sarros a total of $50 on three of the charges and adjourned the unlicensed riding charge for three months.

He dismissed a further charge of larceny of a motor cycle.

Nigel David Grieves, of Seagull Avenue, Altona, told the court he had been at home on August 25, when a number of friends of his sister had come to the house.

About 9.30 p.m. he had been in the kitchen making a cup of coffee when he had heard the sound of a motor cycle.

About 10 minutes later, someone had come in and had told him Jim had crashed.

He had gone outside and had seen Sarros lying on the ground behind a truck.

A trail bike belonging to him had been lying nearby severely damaged.

The bike had been worth $347 and had not been registered at the time.

Grieves earlier had given general permission for his sister's friends to ride the bike up and down the driveway.

Constable Keyes, of Altona police, told the court he had been called to the scene of the accident and had seen Sarros unconscious on the nature strip.

A parked truck had had a large dent in the rear door.

Keyes said Sarros had been taken to the Western General Hospital and he had visited him the day after in the intensive care ward.

A doctor had told him that Sarros had suffered a fractured skull, but would be capable of answering questions.

When questioned, Sarros had said the last thing he could remember was riding the bike up and down the street.

Other youths had been riding the bike before him and he had gone for a ride "just to see what it was like."

He had intended to have a quick ride, then give it back.

Constable Keyes said the truck which Sarros had hit had been parked near an overhead street light and had been clearly visible.

The road had been wet.

Under cross-examination from Mr. I. D. McIvor (for Sarros), Constable Keyes said Sarros had seemed drowsy when he had interviewed him.

In the witness box, Sarros said he had driven to the house and had seen several people riding around on the bike.

He had asked if he could have a ride and had been told there was no objection.

He had never ridden a bike before.

He had thought the bike had been owned by "one of the kids there."

He could not remember the accident.

He had made an agreement to pay for damage to the bike.

In a submission to the bench, Mr. McIvor said although Sarros' actions had been clearly illegal and irresponsible, there had been no criminal intent.

Dismissing the larceny charge, Mr. Caven said there was an element of doubt.

Before passing sentence on the other charges, he pointed out that Sarros had suffered considerably for having been stupid.

He said: "If you haven't learnt from this, then probably next time you'll end up in a coroner's court."

HBA CONTRIBUTORS

please note
increased medical & hospital benefits as from 1st September, 1973, increased contributions
as from 1st October, 1973.

MEDICAL BENEFITS

The Federal Minister for Social Security has directed that health funds pay increased benefits for consultations and home visits by general practitioners, specialists and consultant physicians for service rendered on and after 1st September, 1973. The new benefits range from $3.20 for a G.P. consultation (up 40 cents) to $22.30 for a consultant physician home visit (up $2.30). The Commonwealth is not increasing its share of the benefit. Because there are no reserves in the medical fund to absorb these increased benefits HBA has found it necessary to increase contributions for medical benefits by 16 cents per week for a single person and 32 cents per week for a family, to be paid from 1st October, 1973.

HOSPITAL BENEFITS

From 1st September, 1973, public hospital fees increased as follows: Public Ward from $15 per day to $20 per day. Intermediate Ward from $23 to $30 per day. Private Ward from $30 to $40 minimum. HBA met the cost of the additional benefits during September, estimated at $1,100,000, from hospital fund reserves. As from 1st October, 1973, weekly contributions for hospital benefits will also be increased.

What would you do in emergencies?

What would you do in the sudden case of a heart attack, drowning or accident near your home

The chances are that you would probably rush to the nearest telephone and call the police and then the ambulance — generally in that order.

Although your intentions may be good, you may actually be doing the direct opposite in helping to save a life.

Fitzroy swimming-pool attendant, Mr. Bill Decis had just completed a revolutionary course in how and what to do if such an incident ever arose in your life.

The course was organised by the Royal Melbourne Hospital and had the full support of the Victorian Civil Ambulance Brigade, St. John Ambulance Brigade, Red Cross and other volunteer organisations.

According to Mr. Decis, the course was the most modern he, and other members of the Pool Superintendents' Association of Australia, had ever attended.

The course is available to any member of the public and is conducted at the Royal Melbourne Hospital, or alternative sites such as factories or offices.

The ultimate aim of the course is to eventually establish a series of mobile intensive care units which can be called on to attend any accident, whether it is in the home, at a swimming pool or the beach or a car accident outside your front door or near-by intersection.

About two of these units are already in operation in certain Melbourne suburbs.

Mr. Decis said that grabbing the nearest telephone to dial the police or an ambulance could, in fact, be endangering the recovery of the victim.

"At the time of trying to ring these services, there may be other people trying to do the same thing and the result is unnecessary delay and loss of valuable time," Mr. Decis said.

He added: "What you do is dial 000 and ask for the ambulance service or whatever service you require and, when you report the accident, make sure you give the exact location because many people, in their panic state, give all the details and then hang up before giving the location."

Mr. Decis also pointed out the dangers of parent ignorance of resuscitation methods which are often needed in times of emergency in the family backyard swimming pool.

"If dad goes along with the old techniques, he can do more harm than good."

"This has been proved beyond doubt by medical science and statistics," he added.

Mr. Decis said he would be only too happy and willing to talk to people about the new methods and the proposed mobile intensive care units to explain and demonstrate vital resuscitation methods.

He can be contacted at the Fitzroy swimming pool telephone 41 5037, or at home on 68 6845.

Cricket club going to sub-district

Altona Cricket Club will be admitted to the sub-district ranks in the 1974-75 season.

Altona was one of seven new clubs decided for admission, at a meeting last week of the Victorian Sub-District Cricket Association.

The Altona club was founded only 12 years ago and has made rapid progress since.

The club started in the Williamstown, Altona,

Cricket Association ranks and crossed into the Victorian Junior Cricket Association competition soon after.

Since joining the VJCA, Altona has scored a number of premierships, the latest in the North A Division last season.

Now in the senior division of the VJCA, Altona supporters are looking forward to another successful season before moving upwards next year.

And Saturday's outright win over Newport, with flying colors, has given them grounds for confidence.

Good times at west athletics sports

Good performances and times were recorded at the annual western district Victorian State schools athletic sports held at Essendon athletic centre.

The winning district, for the second year in a row, was Fawcner who scored 78 points.

Keilor was second with 43 points, followed by Werribee-Laverton 39½, Williamstown-Altona 35½, Glenroy 33, Broadmeadows 32, Footscray 25, Yarraville 11 and Ascot Vale 7.

Among the highlights of the sports was the second placing of T. Spicer in the girls under 13 100 metre event.

All winners and place-getters will represent the Western division on October 30 at the metropolitan championships at Olympic Park.

The results from the western division sports were—

The advantages of Special Bonds.

As a savings and investment plan, Special Bonds have unique benefits. Series 2C Special Bonds now on sale offer guaranteed rates of interest that rise from 8% p.a. to 8.4% p.a. in stages.

They also offer a capital gain which rises in steps to 3% at maturity (tax free for most investors).

Most important of all, they offer absolute security. They're backed by the Australian Government. Series 2C Special Bonds can be cashed at full value after 1 October 1974. Interest will be paid for each full month since the last interest payment date. One month's notice at any bank is required.

If you hold your Series 2C Special Bonds until maturity, 1 October 1980, the average yield will be 8.47% p.a. approximately.

Special Bonds are always available through any bank or stockbroker.

Start from just $10.

You can invest as little as $10 at a time and the maximum holding is $50,000 (all series combined).

Altona funds to break even

A business involving more than a $2½ million turnover is not an easy row to hoe — as Altona City councillors have realised.

Despite a rate increase of more than 7 per cent., council hopes to break even on its budget, ending September 30, 1974.

A total of $1,152,730 will be spent on roads, streets, bridges, council properties' maintenance and council properties capital.

The rest of the anticipated expenditure of a total of $2,251,838 will be absorbed in other works and services, debt services, grants and contributions, administration and transfers to other council funds.

Income from rates will bring in an anticipated total of $1,621,293 and the rest will be gained from licences and registration fees, public works and services, Government grants, other works and services, transfer from other council funds and miscellaneous items.

These will bring council about $630,000.

The estimates for the year ended September 30, 1974, have been submitted to council, and a rate of 13.2 cents in the dollar will make up the difference needed by council to complete, start and expand its proposed works.

'Barlow' is back

British actor Stratford Johns, who won acclaim for his role as 'Z Cars' Inspector Barlow, returns to Melbourne television in a new police series. Full details appear this Thursday in 'The Age' TV/Radio guide.

In this handy life-out guide, 'The Age' details the week's programme highlights. These include the direct telecasts of the opening of the Opera House by the Queen, and the Wills Masters golf tournament.

Jennifer Berry talks with visiting BBC interviewer Peter Young, and finds he's an interviewer who doesn't like people. Free with 'The Age', the green guide talks about a documentary on Peking produced by the first American film team allowed into the city.

New series returning to television include Retro-spect, the Rolf Harris Show and 'Certain Women'. 'The Age' guides also tells of plans by a Melbourne station to produce a variety and comedy special headed by Frankie Howard.

There are reviews of records and TV films including D. H. Lawrence's 'The Virgin and the Gypsy'.

JOSLIN PLAYS SOLID MATCH

In the second round of the 73-74 cricket season, Williamstown played Elsternwick who appear to have a stronger combination than last year.

In a one-day game, great bowling by Les Joslin plus four wickets from Geoff Horsburgh unloaded the visitors for 118.

Then along came Les with the bat and a handy 58 runs flowed from his willow and once more he was ably assisted by a team mate in the form of Bert Park who made 32 before losing his wicket when the score was 93.

Williamstown went on to win and at the close of play were undefeated with 5 for 124, thus giving the Blue and Golds their second win.

Elsternwick batted first and Geoff Horsburgh took the wicket of Muir who was well-caught by Barry Hewet off the first ball, however they knuckled down and it wasn't until they were 73 that the break came when Barry McConnell took an easy catch from the bowling of Joslin to dismiss Newton. Joslin and Horsburgh, bowling well, managed to whittle away the rest of the side and they were all out for 118.

Scores ELSTERNWICK

Bowling: Les Joslin 9.5 overs 1 mdn. 5 for 41, Geoff Horsburgh 16 overs 2 mdns. 4 for 47, Graeme Coulston 7 overs 1 mdn. 0 for 15, John Fowler 2 overs 0 for 6.

Williamstown opened their innings, but once again the opening pair Kev Tweedley and Barry McConnell couldn't get a start, as McConnell was bowled when 5 by W. Wilson.

Bert Park joined Tweedley and they added 22 before Tweedley was clean bowled by Newton. Barry Hewet followed and was out without scoring and the board now read 3 for 32.

Robin Dyson joined now settled in Park but he could only make 5 before being bowled 4 for 41 now and not looking so good.

Then along came Les and runs came fast and surely from him and Bert Park, and they put on 52 before Park was to become the fifth Williamstown player to be bowled.

His 32 runs were well put together.

History was then made as Jeffrey Dean took the Altana Cricket Club's senior XI slammed into Newport in the second day's play in the first VJCA round on Saturday and bundled them out for a mere 93 runs.

Saturday's play followed a workmanlike innings of 263 for the loss of six wickets on the first day, after Altona's skipper David Duggan won the toss and elected to bat.

The outlook was bright from the first over on Saturday, when Collin Shaw captured a wicket with his sixth ball.

Ken Clayton, playing his first game with Altona, supported Shaw from the opposite end and both bowled right on the line to keep Newport well behind the run-rate they needed to catch Altona.

Shaw took his second wicket — and the second for the innings — when Newport had only 28 in the book... and the pattern of the afternoon's play was set.

It was to be a slow, drawn-out affair, with Newport unable to score from tight bowling, and the lifeless wicket making wickets hard to capture.

After nine overs, Shaw was sent off for a rest and Bob Dare was introduced into the attack.

With his medium-pace cutters he soon had the Newport batsmen in plenty of trouble.

The seventh ball of Dare's second over captured the third Newport wicket.

Then, only four runs later, Clayton took his first wicket for Altona. Newport still had only 49 runs in hand.

Dare became ill and had to leave the field and Michael Calaz was introduced into the attack and followed the pattern of his earlier team-mates by capturing a wicket — Newport's fifth in his first over.

At the tea break, Newport supporters looked miserable as they realised that in the 135 minutes of play their team had scored only 60 runs and had lost five wickets.

David Duggan replaced Ken Clayton after his impressive 13 overs for 27 runs and a wicket debut with Altona.

Duggan, also bowling for the first time with Altona, capped off a fine all-round team bowling performance when he captured four wickets for 23 runs, leaving Calaz the last wicket... a magnificent catch from his own bowling.

With 50 minutes of time to go, Altona batted and finished with 152 at stumps — D. Hitchcock 9, B. Forrester 35 n.o., and M. Oram 5 n.o.

BRIGHT START

Williamstown CYMS turned in a bright 5/155 innings to record an outright win over Laverton, in the opening round of Williamstown, Altona, Footscray District Cricket Association's 1973-74 season, which finished at the weekend.

This was the highlight of the A Turf grade competition. The "lowlight" was Dugman's score of a feeble 24 in the first innings, against West Newport.

West Newport replied with a snappy 94 and sent Dugman back for a second innings, in which finding form was too late.

Their second innings tally was 9/164.

The other A Turf match, Williamstown RSL v. Williamstown Imperials, was the closest of the grade, with RSL winning by 48 runs on the first innings.

Disappointing bowls result

Altona Bowling Club's A1 pennant team disappointed the club with its loss at the weekend to Northcote, on Altona's own greens.

The margin was a small one, with the tally 90-95, but the loss of a battle doesn't mean the loss of a war.

Perhaps next Saturday's bout with Balwyn will serve as a reminder to A1 clubs that little Altona is a force to be reckoned with in the premier league.

The Division 3 team, playing at Maribyrnong Park, romped away from the home side with generous 48 shots up — the tally — 119-71.

All skippers were successful, but T. Burke's rink again took the honours, with a fine 7-shot win.

The B5 side proved victorious at Moreland, defeating the home side by a comfortable 8 shots — 109-81.

All skippers were in a winning vein, with W. Ingles leading the pack with an excellent 15-shot victory.

Best

But probably the best performance of the day would be attributed to skipper N. Richardson, with J. Carr, C. McDonald, and T. Aitkens.

Down 11 shots at the 11th end, at the tea interval, they held their opponents to four shots in the last 14 ends to emerge victorious by eight shots — 30-22.

Results:

A1 — L. F. Neilsen (s), L. O'Donnell, H. Deacon, L. Craig 31-23. S. Carton, 25-21, T. Reid 19-21. J. Fisher 14-30.

DIVISION 3: T. Burke (s), D.

Thrilling win for women

The Altona North Ladies' Cricket Club scored a thrilling outright win over Avondale Heights on Saturday.

Avondale Heights batted first and scored 102. Sue Griffin (2/14) Betty Butcher (3/11) and Karen Batty (2/15) bowled extremely well.

North got 118 in reply. Top scorers were Betty Butcher 31, Sandra Cunningham 24 and Denise Cunniffe 23.

In their second innings Avondale Heights were all out for 76, the wreckers being Betty Butcher, 4/9, Denise Cunniffe 2/15, and Vikki Clarke 2/3.

North were 3/65 with only five minutes to spare to score their outright win.

Vikki Clarke got 13, Sandra Cunningham 15 and Betty Butcher 15 n.o.
